Over 800 prison camps discovered in the United States! They are heavily guarded by the national guard full-time, but are empty all the time! These camps are being run by FEMA (Federal Emergency Management Agency) should Martial Law take effect in the U.S. With just a simple order from President Donald Trump, Martial Law can be implemented, and he will remain, President in the White House, until it is over.

The Rex 84 Internment Camp Program

Which would mean he remains president indefinitely. The Rex 84 Camp Program, states. In an event which a "mass exodus" of illegal immigrants flock over the border, they would be rounded up and sent to the FEMA camps. According to alternative news, the camps all have railroad connections, as well as roads and highways leading straight into them. Almost all also have an airport within a close distance to the camps. Most of the Federal Emergency Management Agency's prison camps can house 20,000 plus people in warehouse buildings and are secured by the national guard. The biggest of all the camps, however, is located in Alaska and could house up to 2 million people. The same amount of all the people in Los Angeles. Just ask yourself, do you want to be on Ashcroft's list?

Conspiracy theories about plastic coffins by Alex Jones and others

According to reports by conspiracy theorists over 500,000 plastic coffins are stacked up in FEMA concentration camps "just in case something happens." Alex Jones of Infowars published such a report about a FEMA facility back in 2008.

FEMA Concentration Camps debunked by Popular Mechanics?

Others claim these are fake news and tried to debunking FEMA camp myths as conspiracy theories. Glenn Beck also advocated conspiracy theories about the plan that the US government is planning to intern masses of people e.g. in case the evil depopulations 'agenda 21' by the New World Order proceeds. He later backpedaled and hosted a segment featuring a guest from the science news website Popular Mechanics, who 'debunked' Glenn Beck's own claims.

List of all U.S FEMA Camps

There is a camp close to the most major city's in the U.S so transporting people would not be a problem. Special protocols and massive training events have put in place to prepare for an influx of people. This means you and your family could be sent to a camp in this event. Try and prepare for this as best you can by sitting down with your family you discuss a plan of action in this event.

Try to have at least one months supply of clean water and emergency food for everyone including pets. Research more on FEMA camps to learn more locations near you.

We, the preppers, must fight the new world order as best we can.
